“HITLER’S RELIGIOUS THOUGHT”

JUNE 11TH, 2019

The Rev. Dr. Paul R. Hinlicky will present “Hitler’s Religious Thought.”

The Rev. Dr. Hinlicky will discuss Hitler’s religious perspectives and goals in addition to the American perspective about Hitler’s religious worldview: Although Americans have tended to interpret Hitler as an extreme right-winger, Hitler in fact regarded himself as a religious “progressive,” who took upon himself the task left unfinished by Napoleon Bonaparte to complete what started in the French Revolution and drive the people to happiness with an iron fist.

The Rev. Dr. Paul R. Hinlicky is the Tise Professor of Lutheran Studies at Roanoke College and Docent of the Protestant Theological Faculty, Comenius University, Bratislava. He is author of Paths Not Taken, Luther and the Beloved Community, Divine Complexity, Before Auschwitz and (with Brent Adkins) Rethinking Philosophy and Theology with Deleuze. A systematic theology, Beloved Community, appeared in 2015. Divine Simplicity and a study of the 20th century Slovak bishop and theologian Samuel Stefan Osusky, Between Humanist Philosophy and Apocalyptic Theology appeared in 2016. He is senior co-editor of the Oxford Research Encyclopedia of Martin Luther (2017).

Please join us for a great program, fellowship, lunch, and bring a friend!
