"A BRIEF INTRODUCTION TO ROMANIAN HISTORY, CULTURE, AND NATURE"

January 11, 2022

10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

Dr. Dana Ghioca-Robrecht will present "A Brief Introduction to Romanian History, Culture and Nature."

What are Romanian Dragons? What is the real story behind Dracula and the infamous Vlad the Impaler? How was it to live under communism and Ceausescu's rule? Let's review together some major moments in Romanian history. Let's also talk about old and rich Romanian folk traditions. And finally, we will travel virtually through the stunning natural landscape of Romania.

Dana grew up in Bucharest, Romania and studied at the University of Bucharest where she earned a BS in Biology (emphasis in Ecology and Environment Protection) in 1999 and a MS in Ecosystem Ecology and Environmental Management in 2001. She then earned a PhD in Wildlife Science from Texas Tech University, TX in 2005, investigating how land use affects amphibian communities in the intensely agricultural area of West Texas. She continued with two postdoctoral studies focusing on wetland ecology, before she taught at Frostburg State University, MD and then at Excelsior College, NY. Dana has been teaching Environmental Science and Biology at Ferrum College since 2018.
